FEDERATION OF FARMERS OF GUATEMALA. F.G. XI. The F.G. of Guatemala is a socio-political organization which has had for its objective the interest of the farmer. The members of the federation are called "F.G. of Guatemala". In Guatemala the F.G. of Guatemala has more than 60,000 members, most of them are those who are of agricultural origin and are concentrated in the country. The General Convention, whose meeting takes place each year, meets as a general body at the House of Representatives of the Republic and consists of two groups. One group is called the "Grand National Convention" of the F.G. of Guatemala and it is composed of its president, vice-president, secretaries and members of the general congress. The other is called the "General National Convention" of the F.G. of Guatemala and its president is the representative of the Federacion Nacional de Agricultores de Guatemala (National Federation of Agriculturalists of Guatemala) which is the Central Organizer of the F.G. of Guatemala. The meetings of the two groups, Grand National Convention and General National Convention are called "General Congresses" of the F.G. of Guatemala and these congresses are held each year in the cities where the Associations of the F.G. of Guatemala are organized. The "Grand National Convention" is composed of: The representatives of the Associations of the F.G. of Guatemala. The Central Organizer of the F.G. of Guatemala. The representatives of the Associations of the F.G. of Guatemala and those of the Central Organizer of the F.G. of Guatemala.
