Q: Django: Adding a forward slash to an url I have a model which uses slugify so that only one field is edited. My problem is that this form is a drop down list. So if i have example.com/example/ example.com/example/key/ How can i get them to be example.com/example/ example.com/example/key/ This is the model used class Key(models.Model): key = models.CharField(max_length=25) slug = models.CharField(max_length=255, unique=True, blank=True) district = models.CharField(max_length=80, default='Farmingdale') And this is my form class KeyForm(forms.Form): district = forms.CharField(max_length=80, required=False, widget=forms.Select(choices=get_district_list, initial=k_district)) class Meta: model = Key fields = "__all__" def save(self, *args, kwargs): self.district = kwargs['instance'].district super().save(args, kwargs) key = KeyForm() A: Django's URL name resolving is not intended for paths that contain slashes. The Django documentation covers this as well, so for your example you can implement custom name resolving using RegExp. First, create a RegExp that matches all the slashes that are needed. This will be the reverse of the previous regex, so if you have /example/ => example.com /example/key/ => example.com/example/key/ /example/key/ => example.com/example/key/ you will use this regex: /exampleV([^V])V?/ To get all the slashes that are needed you can use the regex /(V)(?!(?

Polydopamine-coated poly(methyl methacrylate) composite as a new material for biomedical applications. The redispersibility of poly(methyl methacrylate) (PMMA) in wet conditions has long been recognized and remains a significant problem in the polymer industry. In this study, a strategy to improve the redispersibility of PMMA was designed by applying a thin layer of polydopamine (PD) coating onto the PMMA microparticles. The PD coating was generated by a facile dopamine oxidation with atmospheric oxygen. The PD coating was found to strongly adhere to the surface of PMMA particles. Moreover, due to its remarkable characteristics of a cross-linked network and high organic content, the PD coating significantly improved the dispersion stability and mechanical strength of PMMA in both aqueous and organic environments, especially in the organic medium. Further, the PD-coated PMMA particles were found to be biocompatible in a physiological environment. This study demonstrates that PD-coated PMMA could be a potential candidate for the fabrication of a new type of biocompatible PMMA-based composite.MAA MAA may refer to: Institutions and organizations Methanolic extract of Ammi visnaga seeds Marketers of Academics, a trade association of the educational advertising industry Marketing Analytics Association, a US-based trade association MIT Artificial Intelligence Lab, the Machine Intelligence Lab of MIT Marxist Academy of Norway Multilateral Agreement on Investment, a series of treaties signed by Western Europe and the People's Republic of China Motor Club of America, an organization that defends the rights of motorists and their passengers Science and technology Methylazoxymethanol, an anticancer drug Mallampati airway assessment, a method of evaluating airway patency Male accessory gland MApD, a molecule involved in the response to acute and chronic hyperglycaemia Other uses .maa, the top-level internet country domain of the Republic of Mauritania Mahad, Iran, a village in Razan County, Fars Province, Iran Mansa International Airport (IATA code), an airport in Ghana Music industry association, in the UK Black metal, a subgenre of heavy metal music See also Manaa, a protein that is involved in deoxyribonucleic acid recombination is divided by j(-9)? 13 Let
