A new bill would also make it easier to raise money for a political committee to make independent expenditures in campaigns. Trash to Life The South Dakota Board of Mortuary Sciences voted to make a rule change for handling cremated remains. The Arizona Department of Health Services has won a $1.3 million contract to combat the illegal prescription drug trade in the state by electronically tracking controlled substances. The U.S. Supreme Court has rejected a bid to revive a lawsuit challenging the constitutionality of Prop. 8 that resulted in California's gay marriage ban being overturned. California Attorney General Kamala Harris was appointed to head up U.S. civil rights efforts by President Barack Obama and will have a "significant role" under the president's plan, the White House said. Guests Guests Topic Lawmakers don't want government to kill good laws on immigration, medicine and guns. But they keep voting to get rid of them. With a few exceptions, "It's a bipartisan phenomenon," says John Villasenor, a longtime L.A. Times reporter and now a journalist at The Chronicle. He joins Joe Mathews and me to describe three laws on the chopping block and the people challenging them — one of which was codified in the U.S. Constitution. Guests Guests Topic Deluged by a "tidal wave of criticism" from farmers, the Democratic-controlled U.S. House of Representatives has passed a bill that would significantly increase the federal deduction for interest on farm loans, The Associated Press reports. The measure, which needs approval from the Republican-controlled Senate and from President Barack Obama, would expand the tax break on crops from $1,000 to $5,000, and on livestock and dairy cows from $5,000 to $10,000. The bill is expected to be signed by Obama and will take effect in 2017. The National Taxpayers Union and other tax groups argue that the new write-
