Is there an easy way to do this? A: You can always use this function:

public static bool HasAlphaChannel(this BitmapSource bitmapSource) { var bmp = new BitmapImage(bitmapSource); return bmp.Opacity > 0.0; } It checks for the Opacity of the Image. A: What you have to do is create a BitmapImage from the original image (if you have access to it) and then check the Opacity to see if it's greater than 0.0f. var bmp = new BitmapImage(myImage); if (bmp.Opacity > 0.0f) { // image contains an alpha channel. } A: Have you tried just using BitmapImage's Opacity Property? var bi = new BitmapImage(FilePath); if(bi.Opacity > 0.0f) { //image contains an alpha channel } Will work for PNGs. 763 So.2d 1234 (2000) John "Chip" CARTY, Appellant, v.
