The four are holding a fundraiser Aug. 11 at the Cosmopolitan of Las Vegas for the music festival and are seeking at least $450,000 to bring it to town. The Cosmopolitan of Las Vegas will host a fundraiser for the Pigeon Forge Roots & Blues Fest that will raise money to pay for costs of running the festival. The four-day music festival is to include around 50 acts, music workshops and a children's stage. The four are hosting the fundraiser at a private dinner Thursday. Sage Rosser, Wynn Las Vegas' director of multicultural entertainment and special events, said this is the first time the fundraiser has been held here. The event will cost between $700,000 and $1 million to put on, she said. There are about $450,000 remaining to be raised, she said. The $450,000 sought will pay costs associated with putting on the event, Rosser said. Mike Flett, Mike Saxon, Marcia Briola and Cynthia Meyerson are co-chairing the event. Flett and Saxon are also co-chairs of the event. Meyerson is a contractor who works for Wynn Las Vegas and Briola is a former employee of United Airlines. Flett said the event will be "four days of hands-on, intimate entertainment" and will have vendors of everything from gemstones to crafts. The event will be held Aug. 595f342e71
